

Food & Beverage Use Case

Supplier Food Safety & Quality (FSQ) Management

Streamline communication and ensure compliance across your entire supply chain with Veeva's Supplier FSQ Management.

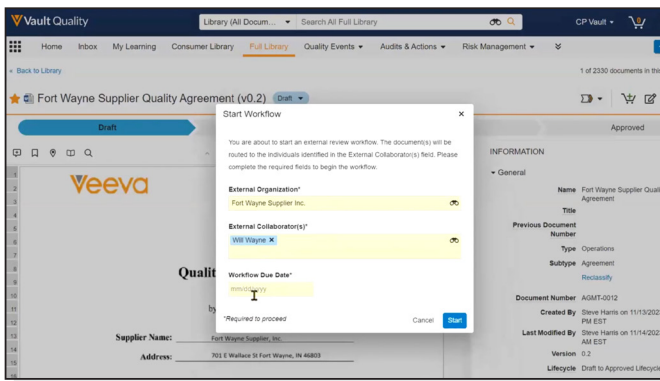

The Challenge

The Food & Beverage industry faces unique challenges in managing supply chain risks, exacerbated by factors like climate change, political instability, and evolving consumer habits. Relying on suppliers to manage food safety and quality, F&B companies struggle with disparate digital tools, leading to slow responses and cumbersome supplier audit processes. The need for timely, data-driven risk management is more crucial than ever.

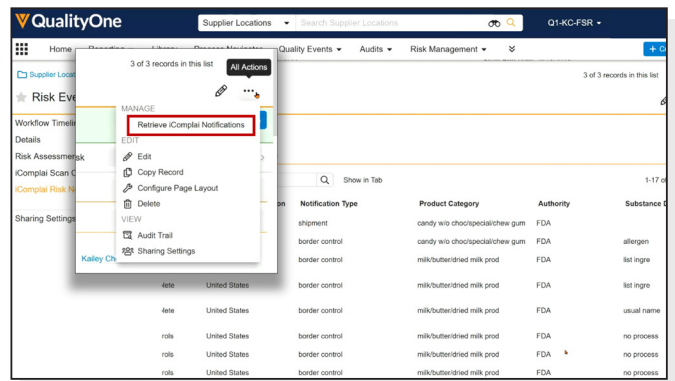

Veeva's Approach

Veeva QualityOne transforms FSQ management with a cloud-based, collaborative solution. This innovative platform invites external partners, such as suppliers and co-manufacturers, to securely exchange vital information efficiently. Key capabilities include document exchanges, supplier NCRs, CAPA, root cause analysis, early warning, audits, and FSMA supplier verification. Integrated workflows, timely alerts, and comprehensive audit trails allow a proactive approach to supplier FSQ management in a single, unified solution.

Key Features

Document Exchange and Collaboration: Seamlessly share specifications and food safety requirements with suppliers, enhancing clarity and compliance.

Integrated Early Warning System: Leverage alerts from the iComplai system for timely risk assessments, gaining proactive control over food safety and quality issues.

Audits and FSMA Supplier Verification:

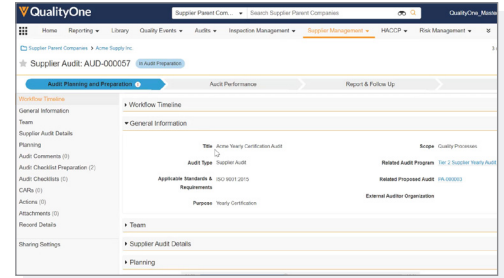

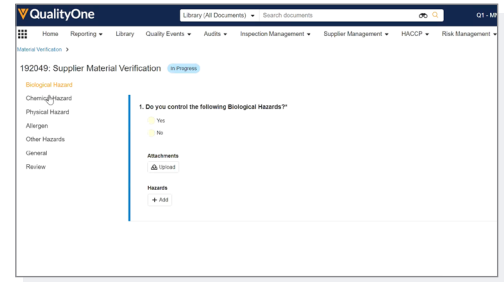

Conduct thorough audits and verifications, ensuring adherence to FSMA standards and other regulatory requirements.

Workflow Management:

Automated workflows and alerts keep track of recurring tasks and document expirations, mitigating risks of oversight.

Audit Trails:

Full visibility into workflow participation and completion, saving time and enhancing accountability.

Veeva QualityOne's Supplier FSQ Management empowers F&B companies to navigate the complex terrain of food safety and quality with ease. By fostering better communication, ensuring compliance, and enhancing operational efficiency, Veeva QualityOne positions F&B companies at the forefront of proactive risk management and supplier collaboration.
